Archineering Cell of BNCA collaborated with,

IMS Bauhaus Archineer Institute,Dessau,Germany ,for a two days workshop on Basics of Membrane structures.

The work of the institute aims at research, development and teaching of new construction methods, especially related to membrane and net constructions, shells and retractable structures. Numerous members such as professors, students, teachers, physicists, craftsmen and computer scientists from all over the world form the basis for the creation of a forum for the exchange of experience and knowledge. Archineering Cell worked out an intense workshop with a combination of classroom sessions and hands on experiences at Dessau- for a group of 20 BNCA UG and PG students . The programme was enriching for students in terms of Global awareness regarding membrane structures.

Prof.Dr.Poorva Kulkarni and Prof.Smita Ogale accompanied a group of 20 students at Dessau.

A group of UG and PG students and faculty of BNCA at the historic Bauhaus institute with Prof.Dr.Poorva Kulkarni,Prof.Smita Ogale,Prof.Dr.Robert Off and Prof.Sarah Van Der weth from IMS.
