MKSSS's Dr. B. N. College of Architecture for Women, Pune is organizing a two days sketching workshop on the theme

THE POWER OF LANDSCAPE SKETCHING:

Exploring the coastal landscapes around Diveagar and Shrivardhan

Conducted by

Dr.Tanja Simonic Korošak

Landscape Architect ,Maribor University ,Slovenia

The Workshop:

Registrations open for all last date: 22 feb 2018

In the two day landscape sketching workshop we will explore the coastal landscapes around Diveagar and Shrivardhan. We will discuss the importance of observation of form, structures, patterns, textures and values in observed landscapes. Participants will discover coastal landscapes as large scale scenery as well as their particular details. Participants will take step by step approach to drawing several different types of landscape elements in a series of different sketching exercises. They will learn about the aeral perspective and several techniques of landscape analysis. They will learn shorthand techniques of sketching people and vegetation in landscape context. Participants will be given direct instructions on site and individual as well as group evaluation of current work. They will improve their drawing skills in order to do observational and analytical drawings on site.

REQUIREMENTS:

Each participant should bring own sketchbook size A5 with paper with at least 150 gm. It is also important, that you bring a graphite pencil with 6B lead (soft lead) and a pen with black ink (can be fountain pen or any gel pen), however not less than 0.5 mm thin. Students can (not necessary) also bring small watercolour box and water brush or coloured pencils.
